The Chicago Association of Litigation Support Managers (CALSM) announces the 2nd annual CALSM-posium

CHICAGO, IL--(August 31, 2010) - The Chicago Association of Litigation Support Managers (CALSM) will hold their 2nd annual CALSM-posium, an educational conference for professionals working in the field of electronic discovery and litigation, on Thursday, September 30, 2010 from 11:30 AM – 7:15 PM at The Union League Club of Chicago. The half-day educational and professional event will include a lunch featuring keynote speaker Patrick Oot, founder of the eDiscovery Institute. There will also be several timely panel discussions providing education in electronic data discovery as well as a cocktail reception for networking.

The CALSM-posium is designed for legal professionals including attorneys, paralegals, litigation support professionals, technical and IT support and service providers.

"Last year's inaugural event generated a tremendous response, "said CALSM's President Elisabeth McNamara. "As a result, we're adding an additional session and making the panels slightly longer. We're excited to present another great educational event for the litigation support and e-discovery community."

Following the keynote presentation by Patrick Oot, attendees will be able to attend three of the following breakout sessions:

- Early Case Assessment
- EDRM Stages – Preservation through Production
- Cost Savings/Alternative Cost Arrangements
- Corporate Education/Involvement – Training/Education
- Do It Yourself
- Risk Management

Panelists and moderators include representation from the following companies; Bartlit Beck, BlueStar Case Solutions, Catalyst, Elijah Ltd., Fios, Forensicon, Integrated eSolutions, Iris Data Services, Katten Muchin & Rosenman, kCura, LexisNexis Litigation Services, Merrill Corporation, Nextpoint, Precision Discovery, Project Leadership Associates, Reveal Data Corp., and Teris, among others.

The event will conclude with a cocktail and networking reception for conference attendees.
