

Handshake Software and Project Leadership Associates Announce Partnership for Legal Industry

Partnership will deliver innovative, value-driven solutions on the Microsoft Office® and SharePoint® platform

Alpharetta, GA and Chicago IL — Mar 20, 2008—Handshake Software, Inc., the global leader in Microsoft Office® 2007 and SharePoint Server® 2007 integration and innovation and Project Leadership Associates (PLA), the leading provider of business and information technology consulting services to law firms, today announced a partnership to offer joint solutions for the legal industry centered around the Handshake Software toolkit for Microsoft Office SharePoint Sever 2007 (MOSS).

Handshake Software provides toolkit-based integration for leading line-of-business applications within Microsoft SharePoint, extends the Document Management capabilities of Microsoft SharePoint for content-centric uses, provides Email Management of Exchange-based content within Microsoft SharePoint and extends Microsoft Search to key Enterprise Content Management Systems.

As a Handshake preferred services partner, PLA will deliver implementation services to support the successful deployment and adoption of Handshake Software to law firms with Microsoft SharePoint software in the Midwest and Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas (TOLA) Region.

"Law firms have information stored in many best-of-breed applications from multiple vendors. Lawyers, paralegals and now customers want to view and most importantly, search for this information in a self service and seamless manner. While Microsoft SharePoint 2007 provides law firms with a platform to present this information, the challenge is to cost-effectively access this information. Adding the Handshake suite of tools to PLA's already successful SharePoint Practice will help bring significant value to our clients by meeting this challenge," said Daniel Porcaro, President and CEO of Project Leadership Associates. "Both PLA and Handshake have significant experience in the legal industry. We have combined our deep business and operational consulting, applications, business intelligence and technical expertise with Handshake's technology solution set to offer a combined solution that will enable law firms to improve their ability to present all client, matter and user centric information quicker and at a lower cost than having to do it through custom development. The knowledge of our experienced consultants combined with Handshake's strong product functionality offers our customers several benefits."

"Project Leadership Associates is a recognized leader in the legal market. Their expertise and track record of delivering successful solutions for the legal markets are critical factors for us," said Doug Horton, President and CEO of Handshake Software. "We're proud to partner with them to make our shared customers successful with their Microsoft SharePoint implementations using the Handshake product."
